

Show Horse

Rules
and Guidelines

2007

Welcome to the new Equestrian Federation of Australia Show Horse rules and guidelines handbook. This handbook has been revised to gather the rules and guidelines from many aspects of the sport of Show Horse into one resource. This in turn will make it easier for judges, competitors, owners and organisers to locate relevant information.

It is important that all involved in the sport know the rules under which they compete. As well, organisers or volunteers must be aware of their responsibilities and entitlements. This handbook will be a key source of that knowledge.

The EFA Show Horse Committee welcomes feedback on the content or expression of the handbook, and hope that this improved format will promote a more user friendly guide to Show Horse in Australia.

The EFA Show Horse Committee acknowledges the contributions of Jan Smith, David Ross and Geoff Lyall in the revision of this Handbook

These rules and procedures are effective from 1 January 2007. From this date on, all other texts covering the same matter are superseded.

1 General Rules and Conditions of Entry

Preamble

These rules and procedures cannot provide for every eventuality. In any unforeseen or exceptional circumstances, it is the duty of the appropriate Official(s) to make a decision in a sporting spirit and adhere as closely as possible to the intention of these rules.

Exhibitors, Competitors and Judges are asked to read the rules carefully and be mindful of the difference between a RULE and a GUIDELINE. A breach of a Rule will attract a penalty. Guidelines represent the preferred option of the EFA. They do not attract a penalty and will not be adjudicated upon.

Method of Implementation: It is envisaged that the policing of these rules will be self-regulatory. Exhibitors, Competitors, Judges and Show Officials have the right to lodge a protest alleging infringement of the rules.

Printing of Judges' Names in Schedule: In order for these rules to operate effectively, it is desirable that Judges' names and appropriate classes be printed in the show schedule, or publicised in the press prior to the show. The success of these rules hinges on the fact that Competitors MUST KNOW WHO IS JUDGING. Competitors are directed to make every effort to discover who is judging their events.

Exemptions may be granted if judging appointments are altered with insufficient time for Judges' names to be publicised.

Where the word horse appears it refers to hack, galloway or pony. Where the masculine gender appears it also includes the feminine gender. Where the singular appears it also includes the plural, and vice versa.

1.1 Conditions of Entry

- 1.1.1 It is a condition of entry to all EFA Show Horse events that the owners and exhibitors are familiar with and abide by the EFA Show Horse Rules. These Rules are to be read in conjunction with the EFA Disciplinary By-Laws, Member Protection Policy and Medication Control Policy. They will be reviewed from time to time, and updated as necessary. Ignorance of the rules will not be accepted as an excuse for any breach of the rules. The appointment of a Steward or other Official whether or not provided for in these rules, does not absolve the competitor from such responsibility.
- 1.1.2 Making an entry under the control of the Equestrian Federation of Australia constitutes implicit acceptance of the EFA rules.
- 1.1.3 Horses shall be shown at their current recorded height and must hold a current EFA Height Certificate to compete at any EFA event including State and Australian HOTA Events. All certificates are valid for a stated period. Competitors shall carry their Performance Cards, EFA Height Certificates and EFA Membership Card at all affiliated shows and make them available for inspection upon request.
- 1.1.4 The Exhibitor shall ensure that horse and Competitor are entered and shown only in the correct classes, and that the horse is entered and shown under its full EFA-registered name.
- 1.1.5 A horse is ineligible to compete if its brands and/or markings differ from those set out on its Registration Papers.
- 1.1.6 No Competitor/Exhibitor shall deface or alter Registration Papers, Performance Cards or EFA Height Certificates.
- 1.1.7 The Judge's decision shall be final.
- 1.1.8 Stallions are not permitted in show horse classes
- 1.1.9 An approved safety helmet is required for all riders under 18 years at all times when mounted. The retaining harness must be secured and fastened at all times. Riders without approved headgear shall be ineligible to compete until rectified. Approved helmet standards are: AS/NZS 3838, EN 1384, ASTN F1163
- 1.1.10 For safety reasons, at all times when riding at an event all riders must wear suitable riding boots with a heel and little or no tread.
- 1.1.11 In the event of a fall by horse or rider, it will be the decision of a representative of the organising committee, and, if possible, a medical officer or doctor, as to whether the rider can continue to compete.
- 1.1.12 Performance Cards will not be issued to show horses less than 3 years old.
- 1.1.13 A Competitor/Exhibitor shall not exhibit under a Judge when his exhibit is ineligible.
- 1.1.14 If a Judge knowingly permits an ineligible exhibit to compete, the Judge, the Exhibitor and the Competitor may be held in breach of the rules.
- 1.1.15 No badge, patch, pin or emblem of any kind may be worn on a rider's jacket other than to represent one's state at the Australian Show Horse Championships in that current year.
- 1.1.16 Riders under the age of 18 years are not permitted to wear top boots or gaiters/chapettes in Rider Classes

1.3 Code of Conduct for the Welfare of the Horse

This Code has been developed by the FEI and adopted by the EFA.

The FEI expects all those involved in International equestrian sport to adhere to the FEI's Code of Conduct and to acknowledge and accept that at all times the welfare of the horse must be paramount and must never be subordinated to.

The FEI urges all those involved in equestrian sport to attain the highest possible levels of education in their areas of expertise relevant to the care and management of the competition horse.

This Code of Conduct for the Welfare of the Horse may be modified from time to time by the FEI and the views of all are welcomed. Particular attention will be paid to new research findings and the FEI encourages further funding and support for welfare studies.

4 Working Hunter Rules

4.1 General Principles

- No change of saddlery is allowed between phases or during a phase
- Boots and bandages are permissible for the jumping phase only
- An approved safety helmet must be worn by all competitors
- In the event of equality of marks, the total mark from Phase One will take precedence, followed by the by the manners mark and then the conformation mark. If there is still a tie, the Judge's decision is final
- Both phases must be ridden in a snaffle bridle
- Whips to be a maximum length of 75 cms
- No martingales, bearing reins, side or running reins of any kind are permitted
- Ponies up to and including 12.2hh to be ridden by rider 14 years or under
- Ponies over 12.2hh may be ridden by riders of any age.

4.2 Phase 1 – Jumping

- Riders are permitted to walk the course dismounted prior to the competition
- No penalty will be incurred if the lower pole on the same vertical plane is lowered
- If a horse/pony turns its quarters to a fence or has a complete turn around a refusal will be given
- Horses/ponies displaying continued disobedience or ponies leaving the ring, whether the rider is mounted or dismounted will be eliminated
- Any horse/pony taking the wrong course or jumping another fence after completing the course will be eliminated
- The fall of horse and/or rider anywhere on the course will result in elimination. The rider may not attempt another fence but must leave the area immediately on foot
- Any horse/pony eliminated or disqualified in the jumping section will not be required again for Phase Two
- Horses/ponies must not enter the jumping arena prior to the event
- If a jump is knocked down due to refusal or disobedience, the competitor must wait for the steward to rebuild the jump and permission from the judge before re-attempting the obstacle
- The jumping phase must be conducted in an enclosed arena
- Practice jumps must be available in a separate area
- A pencil must be supplied for the judge
- Judges are required to inspect the course prior to the event to ensure that it is suitable and at least 2 fences are at maximum height

Maximum Height of obstacles:

- Small Pony 12.2hh and under (rider 14 years and under) 45cm
- Large Pony over 12.2hh and not exceeding 14hh 55cm
- Galloway over 14hh and not exceeding 15hh 65cm
- Hack over 15hh 75cm

Marking System – Phase 1

Style and manners while jumping	20	First refusal	15
		Second refusal	20
		Third refusal	Elimination
Max Total	100	Fall of horse or rider in either phase	Elimination

80 marks are awarded for completing the course without elimination. Any penalties are then deducted, and the mark for style and manners is added to arrive at the total score for Phase One.

4.3 Phase 2 – Work Out

A work out will be prescribed by the judge. The judge may also require the horse to be stripped to conclude an accurate conformation mark

Marking System – Phase 2

Competitors to be marked for the following:

Conformation	20
Freedom of action	20

6.7 Preferential Judging System

The preferential judging system is used for the EFA Australian Show Horse and Rider Championships and the finals of the EFA State Show Horse and Rider Championships. All judges should be aware of the procedure.

The three judges must stand separately and judge with no consultation amongst themselves. At the conclusion of the workouts the three judges mark their first, second and third choices on a preferential judging slip and hand it to a steward. The steward then tallies the preferences, giving three points for a first preference, two for a second and one for a third.

The horse with the highest number of points is the winner, and runner-up the next highest.

An exception to this rule is when any one horse is given a first preference by two judges. That horse is automatically the winner on six points, even if another horse has one first preference (3 points) and two second preferences (2 points x 2) totalling seven points. This comes about as it should always be a majority rules situation i.e. when two judges pick the same horse - it is automatically the winner.

Where the allocation of points via the preferential system brings about a tie, the rankings are reviewed.

If three horses are tied on points, any horse of lower rankings is dropped out of the considerations. For example, if two horses each have a first and a second placing (5 points), these horses should rank above a third horse with only one first placing and two third placings (3 points, plus 2 x 1 point = 5 points). This is because two out of the three judges have ranked the first two horses higher than the third horse (ie: majority rules).

The remaining two tied horses are then re-judged and re-ranked by the three judges (without conferring) on new score sheets. Three judges, re-assessing just two horses will break the tie.

This process applies for winner, runner-up and also to lower placings if required.

In the event of an absolute three-way tie (i.e.: three horses each have 1st, 2nd and 3rd rankings = 6 points) then the three judges may come together to confer. Conferral is the absolute last resort and should take place in the ring under the observation of the Chief Steward.

The preferences must be signed by each judge and posted in a prominent place for perusal by the competitors as soon as possible after the event.

7 Guidelines for Competitors

These guidelines are provided as a GUIDE to Competitors and Judges for each of the different competitions.

7.1 Show Horse

Definition

A Show Horse is a quality, comfortable, well mannered and educated riding horse, being sound of wind and limb. The horse should be excellently presented and give the appearance of being a pleasure to handle, watch and ride. It is entirely up to the talent of the rider and those connected with the horse to prepare and show it in the way in which it looks and performs best.

Conformation and movement

The horse should work with a nicely rounded back, naturally elevated in front and head flexed at the poll. The contact should be light and even. Holding a horse in a shape with the use of brute strength or artificial gadgets is not truly getting a horse to accept and to come happily on to the bit.

A show horse must give the impression of covering the ground easily and fluently. The horse must be well balanced and work without any obvious effort by the rider or any untoward resistance from the horse. The whole picture should be pleasing to the eye.

He should go forward with controlled free forward movement, the correct bend and an even rhythm in all paces at a tempo chosen by his rider.

Head and Ears	The head should fit the animal in size and be well set on to the neck, not thick through the jawl. It should give the effect of being chiseled. The ears should be neither too small nor too large, but in keeping with the size of the head. They should be fine, alert and readily pricked. Loose or lippy ears are not desirable in a show horse.
Eyes	The eyes should be large and bold, showing no white, and should be set towards the side of the head with a nice flat forehead in between.
Muzzle	The muzzle should be fine and soft, with full open nostrils. Small closed nostrils can affect the horse's breathing.
Throat	The horse should be fine through the throat, with a well-defined loose gullet. The line at the throat should be clear cut and the head set well onto the neck.
Neck	The neck should be of a length to look in balance with the remainder of the horse. The top line of the neck should be longer than the underside and should be well muscled with a nice smooth line from the poll to the withers. The highest part of the horse should be his poll and not the neck one third of the way down from the poll. He should bend from the poll.
Withers	The withers should be fine and well defined. It is the highest part of the vertebrae in a mature horse and should be higher than or level with the croup, definitely not lower.
Shoulder	The shoulder should be long and sloping back from the point of the shoulder, vanishing into the wither. Upright shoulders cause many problems. Short, choppy strides and concussions, make it difficult for the horse to carry a rider and move with ease.
Chest	The chest should be wide enough to allow room for the heart and lungs to function in an efficient manner. Too narrow a chest causes problems with the horse's movement. The horse is obliged to travel too close in front and will usually have a problem with brushing, apart from not allowing sufficient room for the heart and lungs. The horse which is too broad in front tends to roll during movement and does not give a smooth ride. If viewed from the front, the horse should stand square.
Forelegs	The forearm should be well developed, with plenty of muscle in the fit horse. The knees should be comparatively large and flat – no puffiness or lumps.
Girth	The girth should be deep to allow room for the heart and lungs. A short girth gives the appearance of the horse being leggy with not much room for the heart and lungs.
Ribs	The ribs should be flat, smooth and well sprung. If viewed from behind, they do not protrude.

Back	A short backed horse is more desirable than a long backed horse. A long back denotes weakness. The back and withers should look as if a saddle would fit comfortably and as if it were made for that purpose. A hollow or sway back is undesirable. A long back is forgivable to a degree in a mare as this allows for healthy gestation.
Quarters	If viewed from behind, the quarters should be almost pear shaped, widening very slightly towards the second thigh, giving the impression of squareness and power with a well-developed second thigh below rounded quarters and above strong clean hocks. The hips should be proportionately broad and hidden from view, not protruding. The croup should be level with or lower than the wither. A croup high horse finds it difficult to bend the three joints in his hind legs, which enables him to lighten his forehand and give a smooth balanced ride. When viewed from the side, the line of the rump should be part of the series of beautiful curves that make up the top line.
Hindlegs	The hock should be strong, clean and well defined, free from lumps and bumps such as curbs, spavins and capped hocks. If you view the horse from behind and draw a straight line from the point of the buttock to the ground, the point of the hock should form the middle of that line. When viewed from the side, the hocks should appear wide both above and below the joint. Size is essential, as strength and prominence are necessary to allow due leverage and attachment of tendons and ligaments. Large bones are usually accompanied by large, well-developed tendons and ligaments.
Tail	The tail should be set on in such a way that it follows the top line and continues on from the vertebrae. It should be neither low nor high set, and carried away from the body curving down in keeping with the graceful shape of the top line.
Cannon Bones	The cannon bone should be flat and strong with well defined tendons. The cannon bones should be the same width all the way down from under the knee to the fetlock or under the hock to the fetlock. The circumference should be approximately 9" in a mature horse, obviously less for ponies.
Fetlocks	The fetlocks joint should give the impression of flatness not roundness, free from puffiness, lumps etc. The ligaments and tendons which attach to the fetlock joint should be clearly defined, so well defined in fact that you should be able to run your fingers down the grooves.
Pasterns	Pasterns should not be too short or upright or too long and sloping. Short or upright pasterns cause jarring, making the horse uncomfortable to ride, as well as the unsoundness they can contribute to due to the concussion. Over-long pasterns, although they can make for a comfortable ride, are not desirable. Long pasterns are frequently found with an over-straight hind leg and are nature's way of compensating for concussion and strains which usually accompany over-straight hocks.
Hooves	Hooves should be strong and healthy looking. They should be neither too upright nor too flat. The angle, if shod correctly, should be the same angle as that of the pastern.

Manners

A show horse should be well mannered and obedient, but never mechanical. Exuberance may be forgiven but not bad manners, biting, rearing or bolting.

Presentation and saddlery

Correctly fitted gear is the primary consideration.

Manes and Tails	Manes should be plaited, tails should be plaited or pulled. False Tails are permitted
Coat and Hooves	Coat clean, with excess hair removed. Hooves oiled or blacked. Quarter marks are acceptable
Saddle (incl girth, stirrups) and Saddlecloth	Saddle should be of good quality and be supple and clean with sound stitching. A straight flapped (dressage type) is desirable. A discreet saddle cloth is acceptable.
Bridle (incl bits and browbands)	Bridle should be the same colour as the saddle, supple, of good quality leather. Stitching on noseband and brow band optional. Coloured brow bands may be worn.

Dress

Jackets and waistcoats	double, or single vent, straight cut, which fits impeccably, with optional vest/waistcoat in toning colour
Hats and helmets	Approved safety helmets to be worn by any person under 18 years when mounted. Helmets and hunt caps should be covered by plain velvet in a dark colour which tones with the jacket, usually black, brown, navy or green. This is most important if the coat collar is also made of velvet. Adults may also choose to wear a bowler hat.
Shirts and Ties	A shirt with a proper collar in a tone which matches the jacket should be worn together with a plain or discreetly patterned matching tie. Alternatively a collarless shirt (ie: ratcatcher) and cotton stock may be worn.
Jodhpurs or Breeches	Jodhpurs or breeches should be fawn, beige, lemon or banana. If jodhpurs are worn with short boots they should finish neatly at the ankle. Breeches are usually only worn by riders with long boots.
Boots	The rider's boots should be leather and either brown or black depending upon the colour scheme chosen.
Spurs	Are permitted
Buttonholes	A "buttonhole" or "boutonniere" is traditionally a flower, or small floral arrangement worn in the buttonhole of the jacket lapel. In modern times these have instead tended to be small rosettes to match the rosettes that complete one's browband.
Gloves	fawn or cream with leather or string backs
Whips/Canes	Are permitted
Jewellery, hair, makeup	Hair should be neat and tidy, accessories should not be obtrusive, makeup should be tasteful

Judging

Show Horses are judged on conformation and soundness and also for manners, paces and education. It should be noted that first and foremost a show horse is a QUALITY animal.

Conformation and Soundness - Conformation in a Show Horse is the correct coupling of evenly balanced parts of the horse which will produce a magnificent looking animal that is both sound of wind and limb.

Manners, Paces and Education - A Show Horse should be well mannered and obedient, but never mechanical. Exuberance may be forgiven but not bad manners, biting, rearing or bolting. A show horse must show soft, regular, active strides which cover the ground, going forward with rhythm and impulsion. All paces should be clearly defined.

Workout

Movements and workouts that the Show Horse may be asked to perform depends on the level of the competition.

A Newcomer horse should only be expected to perform very simple movements i.e. circles, half circles, change of lead through the trot and all transitions to be progressive (meaning to canter through walk and trot, from canter to walk through trot). Again exuberance and tension should be forgiven to a degree. It is equally important that a horse be penalised for bad manners i.e. rearing, bucking, kicking etc.

The Novice horse can be asked for a little more difficult work and you would be a little less forgiving for naughtiness or over-exuberance than you would for the newcomer horse. You could ask for lengthened trot, three loop serpentine in trot or canter depending on the horses you have in front of you to judge.

The Open horse could be expected to perform a little more difficult work. You could include two different types of changes in canter, lengthened trot and canter, walk to canter. Never halt to canter or canter to halt as this is far too difficult and usually looks untidy and is not correct.

7.2 Show Hunter

Definition

A Show Hunter should possess more substance than the modern ridden Show Horse but it must be emphasised they are should be quality animals. A quality Show Hunter must create the impression that it is capable of hunting over a variety of terrain – this militates against any weakness in conformation which would prevent this, and he must do it comfortably and safely for his rider. The Show Hunter in competition is not required to jump.

Conformation and Movement

The Show Hunter should have short, well-defined cannons with sufficient forearm and second thigh. He must cover the ground in all paces with a well balanced gallop, moving from the shoulder, and with the hind legs well under. A certain amount of knee action is permitted, while a flat, stilted action is unacceptable.

Manners

Manners are extremely important and small misdemeanors, which may be overlooked in a Show Horse, should be penalised in the Show Hunter.

Presentation and saddlery

Saddlery should be clean, neat and well fitting, but may be more 'workmanlike' than for a ridden show class.

Manes and Tails	Manes should be plaited, tails should be plaited or pulled. False tails are permitted.
Coat and Hooves	Coat clean, with excess hair removed. Hooves oiled or blacked. Quarter markings are not generally used
Saddle (incl girth and stirrups) and Saddlecloth	Saddle should be of good quality and be supple and clean with sound stitching. A straight flapped (dressage type) is desirable. A general purpose saddle is acceptable but those with forward cut panels tend to hide the animal's shoulder. Girths should be dark colours. A discreet saddle cloth is acceptable.
Bridle (incl bits and browbands)	Bridle should be the same colour as the saddle, supple, of good quality leather. Stitching on noseband and brow band optional. A Show Hunter should wear a simple double bridle with a plain browband and noseband. No coloured or fancy browbands. A snaffle bridle is acceptable

The dress code for Show Hunter classes is generally far more conservative and understated than Show Horse classes.

Two very important factors about clothing which are sometimes overlooked, especially with children, are that everything should (a) fit the rider and (b) be comfortable to ride in.

Jackets and waistcoats	double, or single vent, straight cut, which fits impeccably, with optional vest/waistcoat in toning colour Riders should preferably wear tweed jackets although those made of plain navy or black fabric are acceptable, Tweed jackets can be of a blue, green or brown mixture, the colour chosen to go well with the horse or pony.
Hats and helmets	Approved safety helmets to be worn by any person under 18 years when mounted. Helmets and hunt caps should be covered by plain velvet in a dark colour which tones with the jacket, usually black, brown, navy or green. This is most important if the coat collar is also made of velvet. Adults may also choose to wear a bowler hat.
Shirts and Ties	A shirt with a proper collar in a tone which matches the jacket should be worn together with a plain or discreetly patterned matching tie.
Jodhpurs or Breeches	Jodhpurs or breeches should be fawn or beige. If jodhpurs are worn with short boots they should finish neatly at the ankle. Breeches are usually only worn with long boots.
Boots	The rider's boots should be leather and either brown or black depending upon the colour scheme chosen.
Spurs	Are permitted

Buttonholes	Buttonholes are not usually worn
Gloves	The colour of these should match the boots
Whips/Canes	Are permitted
Jewellery, hair, makeup	Hair should be neat and tidy, accessories should not be obtrusive, makeup should be tasteful

- Correct conformation for riding and endurance
- Substance without coarseness
- Quality without fineness

Conformation and Movement

The pony should possess a kind eye, good length of rein, be clean through the gullet and have a reasonably narrow wither so that the child can sit in comfort. It should have a good sloping shoulder, be short in the back and have correct hind legs. Both "Native" (Welsh or Australian) ancestry or "Blood" type ponies are acceptable in a Leading Rein Class.

Native - near to the ground, short cannons, ample bone, slightly deeper neck than "Blood" type, tiny head, poppy eyes and bud ears. Its trot may be slightly rounded (picks its knees up) and the general picture is active.

Blood - I Cannon bones not as short as "native" types but still flat and full of quality, neck long and slender and action generally low to the ground.

The paces should be straight, true, rhythmical and easy with a good length of stride at walk and trot. The action should be active but not so that the little rider is bounced out of the saddle. In the class, the pony should walk at a medium pace and never overtrot causing loss of balance. The head carriage should be correct in a rounded frame and still. The pony should halt without fuss and stand quietly at all times.

7.5 Smartest on Parade

Smartest on parade is a competition within itself or judged within a competition to determine the most appealing horse and rider combination. It is judged on suitability of mount, general presentation of horse and rider and overall appeal and elegance. Smartest on parade is judged from afar with no individual workout and no points being awarded.

7.6 Turnout Competition

A turnout class is judged on a point score system. It is a competition to determine the best all round turnout. It is judged on conformation and soundness, manners and paces, costume and saddlery, riding ability and appeal which includes suitability of mount, colour co-ordination, conditioning of the horse, presentation of the horse and rider and plaiting and general coat condition of the horse. The whole picture should be one of elegance with much eye appeal.

All competitors are required to line up and are closely inspected for Preparation of Horse, Saddlery and Rider's Costume. All are then required to complete a workout to assess Riding Ability, Manners, Paces, Education, Conformation and Soundness.

Definition

A Working Hunter should possess more substance than the modern ridden Show Horse but it must be emphasised they should be quality animals. A quality Working Hunter must create the impression that it is capable of hunting over a variety of terrain – this militates against any weakness in conformation which would prevent this, and he must do it comfortably and safely for his rider. The Working Hunter in competition is required to jump.

Conformation and Movement

The Hunter should possess:

- Correct conformation for riding and endurance
- Substance without coarseness
- Quality without fineness
- Straightness and freedom of action at all paces.
- Boldness and natural balance
- Colour immaterial

Manners

Phase 1 - Jumping

The course should be ridden at a hunting pace, jumping each fence smoothly, all changes of leg should be flying changes and not done through the trot. The course should be open and flowing and must have a change of direction.

There must be eight jumping efforts, which can comprise of verticals and spreads and may include a two stride double. Some of the obstacles could be jumped from either side in which case, less actual obstacles are needed. The course should be open and flowing and must have a change of direction. All obstacles are to be clearly numbered.

The course should comprise of some natural obstacles such as hay bales, brush, gate, wall, picket fence, log with rail, rustic rails. All jumps must have a top rail in cups, wooden blocks on a wall are acceptable.

There should be a steward available to assist with the altering or rebuilding of the course.

Phase 2 – Work Out

The workout should be similar to that of a Show Hunter class and should always include a gallop and a change of lead at the canter. The leniency that can be shown by judges for minor transgressions in the show horse should not be shown in the Working Hunter. The order of priorities for flat section judging should be conformation followed by action and temperament.

8 Notes for Organisers

This section is designed to help the organisers of a show horse event and is also useful as a reference to ensure that nothing of importance is overlooked in the organising of an event. Events vary from small fixtures lasting a few hours to championship events occupying two or more days. The magnitude of the secretarial and field-work involved will vary accordingly and organisers must use their judgment to adapt what ever is suitable.

8.1 General Considerations

- set a date that does not conflict with other events in the immediate area because it is a drain on judges, competitors and helpers
- select the competitions to be offered keeping in mind the size of the anticipated venue
- if an event is to be Official need to apply to the EFA State Branch, some months in advance, for approval of date(s)
- form an event OC and allocate tasks to members in accordance with the experience and help available
- choose and book a suitable venue and give consideration to the following facilities:
 - secretary – central location
 - camping canteen/catering
 - stabling and/or yards – safe – either on the grounds or locally close by for any visiting horses
 - parking for spectator vehicles and horse transport
 - scorers – quiet area
 - toilet and shower block

8.2 Budget

Compile a budget, which should show a profit or at least break even after expenses are met.

Income

- canteen (if applicable)
- entry fees
- gate (if applicable)
- ground levy
- parking fee (if applicable)
- postage
- sponsorship
- stable hire

Expenses

Depending on the size of the event some of the following may not be required

- canteen/catering - purchase supplies or hire caterers
- hire of equipment i.e. portable toilets, public address system, arena surrounds etc
- hire of stables, permanent or portable
- hiring fee for grounds
- advertising
- insurance
- judges and helper gifts

8.3 Four to Five Months Before

8.3.1 Judges

Contact suitably accredited judges (at least 3 months ahead if possible) by phone, e-mail or correspondence inviting them to judge.

When they reply in the affirmative, a letter of confirmation should be sent immediately. This letter should state that a follow up letter or e-mail will be sent closer to the date of the event.

The follow up letter or e-mail should include the following:

- confirmation of date(s) of event
- venue location
- preferred accommodation, travel and remuneration arrangements (if applicable)

- meals
- inquire if a penciller should be provided
- travel could be shared if a number of judges are from the same area
- request for ABN forms or Tax Invoice if applicable

8.3.2 Ground Jury

Each show must appoint a Ground Jury consisting of at least two show officials, the President, or his/her delegate to adjudicate disputes.

8.3.3 Sponsors

The size of the event will dictate the extent of sponsorship sought. In keeping with prize money or goods in kind for each competition the following example may be of use for obtaining sponsorship of different levels. Organisers should not be discouraged when only small amounts are offered as these can add up to quite a large amount.

Approach sponsors by letter with offers of various sponsorship packages in return for their support. Where appropriate, follow up with a visit to their place of business. The following levels of sponsorship packages could be offered:

- event naming rights: This package would be the person offering the highest value for money (not necessarily cash but could be goods in kind)
- competition arena naming rights: There would be a number of packages to cover all competition arenas. The amount contributed will be within the middle range
- competition naming rights for a particular class: There will be numerous chances at this level to include many sponsors
- advertising in the media, schedules, programs and grounds

When approaching sponsors be aware of their capacity to support and only offer packages within that range.

8.3.4 Schedule and Entry Form

- prepare the schedule and entry form
- include the EFA Disclaimer
- all entry forms must have the phrase 'Conducted under current EFA Rules as amended' prominently shown
- from time to time, some rules are adjusted because of local conditions. Such changes must be clearly shown as a further condition of entry. However, any change must be considered within the context of the intent of the rule. If unsure as to the legality of adjusting rules the State Show Horse Committee must be approached and only be changed with their approval

A schedule should include the following as a minimum

- name of club/association running the event prominently displayed at the top of the front cover
- address where the event will be held
- a contact phone number for both before the event and also a mobile phone number for the event days
- a sentence stating that 'the event will be held in accordance with the current EFA Show Horse rules (as amended)' - this covers all rule changes
- the program of competitions chosen
- if measuring is to be held.
- entry fee
- waiver to be signed by competitors and
- refunds

Points which must be added include

- exhibit numbers and their availability and use of such
- awards
- if a major trophy day, decisions on the way of determining the winner
- the need for competitors to have registration papers available (if applicable), and
- the need for performance cards to be available (if applicable)

Points individual to each show include

- define lungeing area and any other exercise area instructions

- appoint stewards as required
 - ring steward
 - judges' host
 - sponsors' host

- prepare timed schedule
 - calculate the overall time for each competition. When allocating time the following should be considered:
 - ❖ breaks required for judges
 - ❖ allocate competitions to judges according to their accredited level

8.4 Two or Three Weeks Before

- have the timed schedule printed or duplicated and include a phone number for advice of withdrawal and a contact mobile number for the day of the event along with recognition of sponsors and other information relative to the event
- forward a copy of the schedule to:
 - sponsor, with an invitation to attend and present the awards to the placegetters in the competition they have supported

8.8 Duty of Care

- At times when the venue and facilities cannot be prepared to the desirable standard (for example, hard ground during drought conditions, unstable or slippery surface due to wet weather), the Organising Committee should make all endeavours to inform competitors of the associated risks of competing under the current conditions – for example over the Public Address System. Competitors may then assess the potential risks associated with competing. Under extreme circumstances it may be in the best interests for all concerned for the Organising Committee to suspend competition until conditions improve..

8.9 Suggested Program - Suitable for Agricultural Shows and Gymkhanas
